Arkansas in a Recession, Faubus Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said flatly today that Arkansas is in a recession.

Faubus said there are a number of depressed areas in the state but that none are feeling the pinch as much as the Arkadelphia, Benton, Malvern and Camden areas.

Faubus said his administration leaders began to notice the recession trend last July and that the situation tightened up in the past few weeks.

"Asked what recession-hit areas could do," Faubus said: "There isn't a lot one area can do in a recession that is nationwide, but the new national administration can do something and the states can co-operate in a lot of ways to alleviate it."

Navy Board Is Probing Carrier Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — A naval court of inquiry spent three hours today going over the fire-ravaged aircraft carrier Constellation preparatory to hearing testimony from witnesses to Monday's disaster.

The fire killed 48 workmen and injured $75 million damage on the Navy's newest and largest carrier. The blaze scorched the ship from stern to stern, buckled plates, twisted beams and set back the carrier's completion by at least a year.

Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin headed the Court of Inquiry. He announced that he had authorized Rear Admiral Schuyler N. Pyne, commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, to proceed with repairs to the Constellation.

After the inspection, the court recessed. It will reconvene in the Navy court-martial building in the Navy Yard and start calling witnesses.

Certain to receive attention is the city fire department's criticism of naval safety procedures aboard the vessel.

Cotton Ginned 13 Million Bales

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau reported today that 13,339,873 running bales of cotton from this year's crop had been ginned prior to Dec. 13.

This compared with 14,004,03 ginned at the same date last year.

The ginnings, by states included:

Ship With 39 Aboard Breaks Into Two at Sea

NEW YORK (AP) — A large American tanker was broken in two today by violent seas off Cape Hatteras, N.C. The Coast Guard reported some of its men in the water and others clinging desperately to the drifting stern section.

The Coast Guard said the stricken craft was the 10417-ton Pine Ridge, owned by the Keystone Shipping Co. It's home port is Wilmington Del.

The Coast Guard said the ship carried a crew of 37. However, New York agents put the number at 39, including the skipper.

Soviet-Armed Rebels in Laos Revive Fight

By ROY ESSOYAN

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pro-Communist Capt. Kong Le's rebel forces bolstered by Soviet air drops of arms and ammunition, apparently are digging in for a showdown battle with the pro-Western forces that drove them from this battered Laotian capital.

The paratroop captain and his force estimated at 800 men, reportedly have halted their retreat and are taking positions along a line stretching from Buon Phong, 35 miles north of Vientiane, to Vang Vieng, 110 miles north of the capital, Western military sources said.

Two Soviet transport planes are shuttling military supplies to Buon Phong and Vang Vieng, presumably from neighboring Communist North Viet Nam, eyewitnesses have informed Western sources, Kong Le's forces are backed by pro-Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas.

The area, a V-shaped valley cut into the foothills north of Vientiane, is a Pathet Lao stronghold. Vientiane itself, scarred by four days of shelling and street fighting, is slowly coming back to life.

An estimated 5,000 homeless are billeted in refugee camps or overcrowded homes. According to conservative estimates, more than 150 persons were killed and 500 wounded in the fighting. Most were civilians.

American, British, French and other relief planes are shuttling rice, milk and medicine from Bangkok and Saigon.

Burned-out areas are being bulldozed, but reconstruction work has not started.

Man Tells of Experience on Carrier

NEW YORK (AP) — Six hours alone, trapped in a ship that had become a steel furnace. That was John Woytovich, 57, is being "very, very alone."

When fire broke out he was three decks below with a crew working on a refrigeration unit. He helped the other men out of the compartment first, then became lost in the blinding, choking smoke as he tried to follow.

"Somehow I ended up in a chain locker," he said. "I felt a draft around my ankles. There was air down there, so I lay down on my stomach with my face against this vent. That's what saved my life."

"I wanted to be home for Christmas and . . . I'm going to be now. It's just a miracle. Lord knows, I lay there and prayed for one."

By the time rescue workers got Woytovich out, he was purple in the face from the heat, but Tuesday night his condition was described as good.

State to Lose Unless House Is Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau said today that in order for Arkansas not to lose two of its six House seats in 1962 it would be necessary to increase the House membership from 435 to 547.

And for the state to lose only one of its seats, the total membership would need to be boosted to 448, the agency said.

This information came in the face of reports that a move might be made in Congress next year to losing members.

Arkansas members generally, however, are dubious of the success of any such move.

Arkansas is slated to lose the two seats as a result of its population drop recorded in by the 1960 census.

Some other states that had population increases will gain seats. California's total, for example will jump from 30 to 38. Its population increased by 48 1/2 per cent between 1950 and 1960. The membership changes will be effective with the 1962 election.

Under normal procedure, Congress will vote this year to keep the size of the House at 435 members and redistribute those seats among the states on the basis of the new population figures.

Unless some move is made to increase the size of the house Arkansas' 1961 Legislature will be faced with the task of re-carving the state into four districts.

Snow Falls in Sections of Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow began falling in northwest Arkansas again today, but a bright sun shone over most of the state after a winter's eve onslaught of severe weather Tuesday.

Both Fayetteville and Harrison reported the new snow on top of Tuesday's snow and sleet.

Mainly Tuesday's fall was light but it was enough to make roads slick in some areas.

The Highway Department, whose crews spread sand where needed, said no roads were closed.

The temperature tumbled to an early-morning 10 degrees at Fayetteville and Gilbert. It was still around 20 at Fayetteville in mid-morning.

Other low readings included 13 degrees at Mountain Home, 14 at Flippin and 15 at Blytheville.

Tuesday's snow, which ranged up to two inches at some north Arkansas points, dwindled to a trace or changed to a drizzle in other sections.

Points reporting measurable snow included Jonesboro, Walnut Ridge, Paragould, Newport, Blytheville, Piggott, Corning, Fort Smith, Rogers and Batesville.

It stopped Tuesday or Tuesday night, but started again in the northwest Arkansas area today.

High temperature for the state Tuesday was 62 degrees at El Dorado.

As a cold wave moved in from the north, temperatures fell in south Arkansas as in rest of the state. The low for El Dorado was 24.

The Tuesday storm came one day before the official opening of winter, which begins at 2:27 p.m. today.

Russia Mocks Attack

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has charged a U.S. destroyer made an hour-long mock attack on a Soviet freighter in the Mediterranean Nov. 4, almost causing a collision.

In a protest note delivered to the U.S. Embassy Tuesday, the Russians demanded "severe punishment for those guilty of the provocative actions."

The note identified the destroyer as No. 817, the number assigned the radar picket destroyer Corry.

The freighter, the Paleshty, was en route to Odessa from Marseille, France, the note said, when the destroyer made several turns nearby and then approached.

"When the U. S. destroyer was at a distance of 70 to 80 meters from the motorship and continued approaching it the captain of the motorship had to stop the engines to prevent a collision," the note asserted.

Winter Season Ushered in by a Cold Blast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Blustery, snowy and cold weather ushered in the winter season today from the eastern Rockies into the Northeast.

The snowstorm which buffeted the Midwest, with foot-high falls in some areas, spread into the Ohio Valley during the night, dumping heavy snow in many areas.

Powered by strong winds, the storm headed eastward into western and central parts of the mid-Atlantic seaboard states and extended eastward over the Great Lakes region and southwestward through the Ohio Valley.

At least nine deaths were attributed to the stormy weather, which erupted in the Plains and spread eastward rapidly. The storm deaths included five in Ohio three in Illinois and one in Missouri.

The broad blanket of snow in the Midwest, plus strong shifting winds and sharp drops in temperatures, made it look and feel like midwinter before the official arrival of winter at 3:27 p.m. EST today.

Numbing cold gripped the north central region as the mercury plunged below zero across the snow-covered sections of the midlands. The cold air dipped southward into Texas and the Gulf Coast.

It was 13 below zero in Aberdeen, S. D., and the subzero sting was felt in northern Illinois with 2 below in Rockford, Chicago, covered with a record prewinter snow carpet of 12 1/2 inches, shivered in near-zero readings.

The heavy snow covering appeared to guarantee many areas a white Christmas on Sunday. No general immediate break in the cold weather was indicated.

Travel, both by motor and air, was sharply curtailed throughout the snowbelt. Snow diminished to flurries in most Midwest areas, and clean-up crews were on 24-hour schedules clearing streets and highways.

Chicago's Midway Airport, called the world's busiest, was closed for more than 12 hours as workers cleared the runways of the heavy snow. Airports in Cincinnati also were closed.

Ohio and Pennsylvania battled the storm. Falls of 6 to 14 inches were expected in western Pennsylvania, with 7 to 10 inches in Pittsburgh. A half foot of snow fell in a four-hour period in the small town of Somerset Pa.

In Ohio, more than 8 inches of snow snarled traffic in Columbus and a 10-inch fall was expected in Cleveland. Falls of 3 to 6 inches were reported in most northern areas, with lesser falls in the southern part of the state.

Snow mixed with rain and sleet pelled areas in New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia and western North Carolina, with snow on the way in some areas. The snow-sleet mixture in Newark and Trenton changed to heavy rains. New York City, hit by heavy snow last week, was in the path of the storm.

In contrast to the cold and wintry weather, unseasonably mild weather prevailed in the extreme Southeast and Southwest sections of the country. The mercury soared to 81 degrees in both Los Angeles and San Diego Tuesday.

Child Killed by Shotgun Blast

DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Susan Hooker, 9, was shot and killed in her Detroit home Tuesday night when a Christmas shotgun her brother, 13, was holding discharged.

Michael said the gun didn't seem to work correctly Tuesday night, and he was checking it over when it suddenly went off. The charge struck his sister in the head.

Landowners to Tell Their Side

MEMPHIS (AP) — Thirty-seven Haywood County landowners, who the government says planned to evict Negro sharecroppers because they wanted to vote, present their defense today in U.S. District Court.

The Justice Department charged the white landowners under the 1957 civil rights act, and asked Judge Marion S. Boyd for an injunction, forbidding eviction of about 300 Negroes.

Defense attorneys indicated during Tuesday's cross examination of government witnesses that the landowners would contend modern farm machinery has reduced the need for tenants and sharecroppers.

One witness James Avery, testified he received a letter from his landlord T. Crowder Chapman Jr. saying "he didn't think he could give me another crop on the farm." Avery, 45-year-old father of three, said the letter came shortly after he had registered to vote.

"Don't you know Mr. Chapman has gone in for modern machinery?" a defense lawyer asked.

Avery insisted he produces "just as much cotton with mules as they do with farm machinery." First witnesses for the government were white persons who testified about an alleged conspiracy to deprive Negroes of the right to vote.

Mrs. Sara Lemmons, a clothing store operator said she was attending a meeting on "what could be done about Negroes who registered."

The suit filed by Atty. Gen. William F. Rogers, is the first use of a section of the 1957 act which bans intimidation or threats to persons intending to vote.

Kennedy to Air Budget Problems

By Marvin I. arrowsmith

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy today picked Roswell Gilpatrick who was undersecretary of the Air Force in the Truman administration, to be deputy secretary of defense.

Kennedy announced selection of the 54-year-old Democrat as he started day-long conferences on planning of the new administration's budget against a background of concern over the business slump—a slump also bothering the outgoing Eisenhower regime.

Gilpatrick, a New York lawyer, who will be No. 2 man at the Pentagon under the new secretary of defense, Robert S. McNamara, who is resigning as president of the Ford Motor Co. to join the Kennedy administration.

Gilpatrick was undersecretary of the Air Force in 1951-53. In 1956-57 he took part in a study of the defense establishment financed by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. In 1958 he was named by Sen. Henry M. Jackson D-Wash., to the advisory panel of the joint congressional subcommittee on military applications of atomic energy.

Gilpatrick also is a member of two study committees which have prepared reports for Kennedy on the Defense Department and national defense problems.

He won a Phi Beta Kappa key for scholarship at Yale. He was graduated from the law school there in 1931 after serving as editor of the Yale Law Journal.

Gilpatrick has been a member of the New York law firm of Cravath, Swaine & Moore since 1940 with the exception of the period he served at the Pentagon.

He also is chairman of the board of trustees of the Aerospace Corp., founded this year at the request of Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. as a nonprofit organization to assist the Air Force in space and missile problems.

Another member of the Kennedy Cabinet, Secretary of the Treasury-designate Douglas Dillon, turned up in Palm Beach today as Kennedy opened budget talks with the experts he has named to advise him.

Dillon, a Republican now serving as undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration, told reporters he did not know whether he would sit in at the budget conference.

Vacationing at nearby Hobe Sound Fla., Dillon said he came to Palm Beach primarily to confer with Kennedy aides in preparation for taking over his new job next month.

On hand for the meeting with Kennedy were David E. Bell Harvard economist who will be Budget Bureau chief; Elmer B. Staats present deputy director staying on as No. 2 man under Bell; and Kennedy staff members Theodore Sorensen and Myer Feldman.

Pierre, Salingor, Kennedy's press secretary, told a news conference that Kennedy plans to resign soon from the Senate.

Gov. Foster Furcolo of Massachusetts announced Tuesday night he will appoint Benjamin A. Smith II of Gloucester, a former Harvard roommate of Kennedy, to the Senate seat when Kennedy gives it up.

Salingor said, as Furcolo had earlier, that Kennedy suggested appointment of Smith. Smith was active in the campaign.

After strategy talks with Democratic congressional leaders Tuesday, Kennedy told newsmen all were concerned "with the problems of unemployment and the lack of vigor in the economy at this time." He met with Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson; House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas; and Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, expected to succeed Johnson as Senate majority leader.

Kennedy said the economy's "lack of vigor" would have a bearing on tax revenues. He implied that this must be taken into account in charting a spending program.

President Eisenhower is preparing a final budget for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1961. He will send it to the new Congress early next month. It will be up to Kennedy to decide on any revision after he takes office, Jan. 20.

Kennedy brushed aside questions on the spending total of his budget and declined to speculate whether the budget would be balanced.

"I think," he said, "we are going to have to wait until January to get a better and clearer estimate of the tax revenue."

Kennedy said he would urge the new Congress to act speedily on bills to aid chronic unemployment areas, hike the minimum wage from one dollar an hour, and encourage home construction.

The business slump also is giving the Eisenhower administration a headache in the planning of the President's final budget.

Although Kennedy said Monday he understood that decisions already had been made on that budget, the word from administration officials in Washington is that figures have not been fixed yet, apparently because of a delay in forecasting revenues.

UN Recesses Turbulent 15th Session

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. General Assembly recessed its turbulent 15th session early today after approving a resolution requiring all members to share in the cost of the 1960 U.N. Congo operation.

The Soviet Union vigorously opposed the plan. It made it plain it would defy the assembly majority by refusing to supply any part of the 48.5 million to be raised by assessments. The vote was 46-17 with 24 abstentions.

The assembly also authorized Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to spend up to $24 million for the Congo operation during the first three months of 1961. The 99-nation assembly adjourned at 12:57 a. m. to begin an 11-week recess that will end March 7.

The stormy three-month session, which opened Sept. 20, was notable chiefly for the visit of Soviet Premier Khrushchev and the bitter Soviet campaign against Hammarskjöld.

The final hours were devoted mostly to budgetary and other housekeeping questions, but the crucial issues raised during the session persisted.

Soviet Delegate A. A. Roshchin told the assembly just before the midnight vote on the Congo budget: "One of the main causes of the situation as it now prevails in the Congo is to be found in the fact that the secretary-general, on his own initiative and without any authorization from the Security Council, has set up a United Nations command consisting mainly of United States nationals and nationals of other countries in NATO."

The Russians indicated they would continue their attack. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin called a news conference today to review the work of the session.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said in a statement that the Soviet Union, because its plans in the Congo had been frustrated, had tried to punish the United Nations, to misrepresent and libel it, to hamstring its operations and to drive Hammarskjöld from office.

Although the assembly deferred action on many issues, it did make several positive decisions, including:

1. It called for steps to bring "to a speedy and unconditional end colonialism in all its forms and manifestations."
2. It declared the Algerian people have the right to independence and the United Nations has

Ike to Light Christmas Tree

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will light the national Christmas tree near the White House Friday afternoon between 5 and 5:30 p.m.
The White House said he will make a brief talk at the ceremony.

For many years, it has been the custom for a president, whether in or out of Washington, to light the tree by pressing a button. The Eisenhowers plan to spend Christmas in the White House. The tree is located on the Ellipse, a park just south of the White House.

Conviction in Party Line Phone Case

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The New Jersey Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of a woman for refusing to give up a party line telephone for an emergency call.

By a 6-0 vote the court upheld conviction of Mary C. Zielinski Milburn, who was fined $200 in Essex County Court.

She was charged with refusing to give up the party line when Dr. Marvin Becker of Newark tried to call an ambulance for a woman heart patient.

Film Brings Educator's Criticism

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An educator and a clergyman Tuesday night criticized the film, "Operation Abolition" which the American Legion has obtained for showing in Arkansas.

The Legion indicated it would go ahead with its plans for screening the film, which according to its makers shows how a small group of Communists promoted demonstrations by college students which disrupted hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee at San Francisco last May.

After a preview showing Tuesday night, Executive Secretary Forrest Rozzell of the Arkansas Education Association and Dr. Joseph B. Hunter, executive secretary of the Arkansas Council of Churches, said the film was inaccurate and misleading.

Lloyd McDaniel, state Legion adjutant, quoted J. Edgar Hoover, the FBI director, as saying the riots were "Communist-inspired." Others defended the film.

The film was made by a commercial firm, which had the cooperation of the House committee. Its critics have claimed it was designed to prove a point and not to give an accurate picture of what happened in San Francisco.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife and Husband at Impasse; She Calls It Cold War

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:

My husband and I have a cold war going. We were married at 18, 11 years ago, have four children, been through tough times but see eye to eye on most things. Our common goal is a business—my husband's very own. Compared to most couples, we are exceptionally happy but lately my husband stays after work three or four times a week to drink and play poker. When I put my foot down, he stops—for a while. He is a wonderful provider, manages a chain store market and works 12 hours a day. He is gentle, loving, thoughtful and handsome, isn't he the buddy type of father, but loves his children.

My father is an alcoholic and I was raised in a hickering, nagging, neurotic home. I'm afraid my nagging will bring my husband to what I fear. He would like to go out once a week, have dinner, dance and drink. I'm afraid.

Don't get the impression that I'm an angel and my husband a louse. I am lazy, the world's worst housekeeper and anti-social. I love to read, enjoy museums and historical landmarks. My husband is outgoing, likes a trip to the mountains, the beach or Las Vegas. I'm scared to death of high places, can't swim, but do go occasionally with him.

also brought food and a toy for the underprivileged. The group sang Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. O. F. Lloyd at the piano.

Spring Hill Good Neighbor Club Elects New Officers

The Spring Hill Good Neighbor Club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. John Hackler. Each member brought a dish of food and a variety of foods were served for lunch.

New officers were elected for the coming year as follows: Mrs. Millicent Smith, president; Mrs. R. W. McCormack, vice president; Mrs. Moore, secretary, treasurer; and Mrs. Hackler, reporter.

During the meeting secret pals were revealed and new ones were chosen.

Mrs. Smith won the door prize. The club presented the hostess a set of pyrex. After the business session, gifts were exchanged.

Paisley Daffodil Club Meets

The Paisley Daffodil Garden Club met in the auditorium on Dec. 16. Stanley Paris called the pledge. The group sang "Jingle-meeting to order."

Fred Ellis led the group in "le Belles" and Susan Pierce read the minutes of the previous meeting. The meeting was turned over to the leader, Mrs. Frazier.

The group made corsages for their mothers for Christmas. Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Graham of Wichita, Kan., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee England of Mobile, Ala. are spending Christmas with their father, Ernest Ross and with Mr. and Mrs. Donvil Ross and family.

Miss Gwendolyn Dean of Texarkana, formerly of Hope, will spend Christmas with relatives in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jewell are in Ft. Worth, Texas to spend the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Jewell and family.

Arriving Thursday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holder, is Melissa, who is a Junior at the U of A.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Wilson and children, Jennie and Scott of Joplin, Mo. will arrive Saturday to spend the day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holder.

He also put me on a diet of mush from him until I work in the shop for now. My dad also goes out almost every night, tells Mom to shut up and every time she makes a mistake in the store, tells her she can't add. He made me go without food all day till last night. What should I do? —Desperate.

Dear Desperate: You are evidently caught in the conflict between your father and mother. But, no matter what you did or didn't do, he should not resort to such drastic methods of discipline. Ask your doctor or minister to intercede.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "Disposition."

Trumans Will Get Together

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Truman left today for New York to spend the Christmas holidays with their daughter, Margaret, her husband, E. Clifton Daniel and two grandchildren.

They were scheduled to take a Pennsylvania train at St. Louis, arriving in New York at 9:15 a.m. Wednesday.

From what you tell me, your husband appears to be a social, not a serious drinker, out for a good time rather than a binge. Happy parents mean happy children. Relax, go partying, with your husband. If your mutual goal is a business of his very own, it's essential that you be a good mixer. Start learning how now. In turn, he should make your interests his; read some of the books you like; take his family museum-touring and a acquaint himself with local landmarks.

You both need reminding that marriage is a partnership. But even as of now you're a very lucky couple. Don't forget to say thank you on Christmas Day! I like the forthright thinking in your letter.

TIME FOR VIOLENCE

By Noel M. Zoonin

THE STORY: Stella Harding daughter of the owner of the L.J. ranch, admits to Bart Wagner that she prefers Kansas City to the rough life of the Texas Panhandle. She wants Bart to take her away. Bart replies that he has other work to do.

CHAPTER IX

Bart stopped the mules in front of the store. He tied the reins to the footiron and got down and went inside. The store smelled of kerosene and horse tonic and new buggy whips. He pushed his big hat up on his head and rubbed the black whiskers on his chin.

"Somethin', mister?" asked a whiny voice.

"Are you Jones-Myers?"

"That's what they call me."

Bart fished the list out of his vest pocket, saying, "I come for some things for Miz Lewis."

"Ben Lewis? You workin' for Ben?"

Bart looked at him, seeing a small, partly hump-shouldered man with thin brown hair and a wispy brown mustache.

"Ben is dead. I'm workin' for Miz Lewis."

"Dead?" Myers did not seem shocked. "What happened to old Ben?"

"Outlaws."

"Too bad," Myers was peering over his glasses at the list. "That says 'coffee'?"

Bart also got sugar, rice, dried apples and peaches, and cornmeal. He got half a dozen blocks of salt and a case of canned tomatoes, haggling over prices and complaining about everything possible. Bart was a little astonished at himself, for never before had he paid attention to the price of anything but a horse.

And when he got all through, he had a fair load of groceries, and there was still some money left. "Want a cigar?" asked Jones.

Bart licked his lips. "Haven't had a cigar in weeks."

Bart finished carrying out the things he had bought. The two men outside had moved in front of another store.

Bart put a foot up on the wheel hub and puffed the cigar. It wasn't a bad smoke at all.

"How can this county afford a judge and all?" he asked Myers, who had followed him out with the last load of groceries.

"Stock Growers' Association. They all got together and assessed every man a few cents on a cow to add to the judge's salary. Only way it could be done. No judge would come out here for the legal salary."

He glanced toward the saloon, and one drink wouldn't hurt—it. He had a few cents of his own, would cut the Panhandle dust. He grinned wryly and went into the saloon. "Cedar Valley," he said.

He fished a quarter out of his lower left vest pocket and laid it down. He got a dime in return, and put it in his pocket, then took the whisky in his mouth and let it soak into his tissues.

"Another one?" asked the beady-eyed bartender.

The bartender looked around. "This one's on the house," he said as he picked up the bottle.

"What do you care?"

The bartender picked up the bottle again, but Bart shook his head. "Nor do I want to give you an excuse for hitting me over the head with a suspicious man," the head and saying I passed out."

Bart said, "What about that prohibition clause in the land deeds of Clarendon?"

"The boss doesn't think it will stick. When they get through holding court, all the dries will be through in Donley County."

"How's that?"

"They're going to run the judge and prosecuting attorney and the whole shebang out of town."

"Do you think they can do it?"

The bartender shrugged again. "You're wearin' guns. You know what they will do."

Bart frowned. "Who owns the saloon?" he asked.

"Xenophon Jones."

Bart puffed at the cigar. It was really warmed up, and tasted good. "What kind of man was Ben Lewis?" he asked.

"Was?" the bartender repeated.

"He was shot two days ago."

Not Enough, Dollarway Board Told

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A revised Dollarway School desegregation plan needs additional "beefing up" before it meets the "degree of objectivity" the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals demanded when the original plan was rejected last August.

"I want the board to have a plan that will last through a few rounds of litigation," U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley said Tuesday in asking school board attorneys to confer with the board after Christmas "to see if you can work up something more objective." He set no date for another hearing.

Henley approved the original plan, but it was rejected by the appeals court as not being definite enough. It was returned to Henley with instructions to have it made more effective.

"I don't want to have a new plan every week or month," Henley told attorneys. "I realize you have a difficult problem trying to state objective standards and still use the rather broad criteria of the pupil placement plan."

Both the original and revised plans expressed opposition to transfers at the higher grades but agreed to assignment of first grade students to schools of their choice unless contrary to state pupil assignment laws.

Negro attorney George Howard Jr. argued that the new plan did not contain any "affirmative steps" to end compulsory segregation. He said the best plan would be to end all segregation.

Only one Negro, Delores Jean York is now attending first grade classes in the formerly all-white Dollarway School near Pine Bluff.

It was Pike's second trial on the manslaughter charge. The jury in the first trial, held last month, was unable to agree on a verdict.

Bill Bitterly Protested by Indians

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The government rammed through one house of Parliament today a controversial bill to amend the constitution and permit transfer of 4½ square miles of territory to Pakistan.

The bill was bitterly resented in Calcutta and throughout the state of West Bengal where all shops and private transport closed for the day in protest. The transfer involves partition of the so-called Berubari Union, which heretofore has been part of West Bengal.

Prime Minister Nehru agreed to the transfer in September 1958 at a meeting with Prime Minister Feroz Khan Noon which helped bring peace to the disputed border.

The lower house passed the bill 329-47. It is expected the upper house will approve it on Thursday.

Transfer of the territory is scheduled by Dec. 31.

Kennedy Laughs About Vote

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy had only a half-joking comment today on news the Electoral College had officially chosen him for president.

Asked about it at a news conference, he drew a laugh by saying that Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, seemed in some ways to have conducted a more vigorous fight against him since the November election than before.

Kennedy was referring to efforts by Morton and some other Republicans to block certification of Kennedy's election on the grounds of vote frauds and irregularities.

He was just plain ornery."

Bart went out. Nailed on the wall of the post office was a notice that court would be held. Judge Frank Willis would preside as an official of the thirty-fifth Judicial District, Temple Houston, son of Sam Houston, would be prosecuting attorney. Court would be held in "the open lot south of the post office." The notice was signed by Tom Harding, acting sheriff.

It walked from the post office and came face to face with the two men who had been moving across the street.

Charge Against Author Dropped

NEW YORK (AP)—A disorderly conduct charge against Norman Mailer, author, was withdrawn today in Manhattan Arrest Court.

It resulted from a dispute over a $7.00 bill for food and drink at a night club on Nov. 14.

Oscar Goodstein, owner of the club, offered to withdraw the charge. Magistrate Walter J. Bayne accepted after Mailer agreed not to take any action against Goodstein, or the arresting officer, or the city.

The author is scheduled to appear in Felony Court to face a charge of stabbing his wife, Adele.

Possible Reasons for Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three possible causes of history's worst aviation disaster in New York last Friday have been put forward.

1. The ground radio navigation equipment that guides a plane in its holding pattern may have been at fault.

2. There could have been a brief, but critical lapse in radar surveillance from the ground of the two planes that collided over Staten Island.

3. A passenger on the United Airlines DCB jet may have knocked away delicate navigation equipment in the plane by using a transistor radio or a portable dictation machine.

These ideas were advanced Tuesday by persons who are interested parties in the intensive investigation of the collision of the jet with a TWA Super Constellation.

The first two theories came from W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines. The third came from John R. McDonald, an official of the Air Line Pilots Association.

The ALPA has been at bitter odds with E.R. Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency. McDonald underscored this Tuesday when he blasted Quesada for commenting about the crash.

"Quesada is in no position whatever to make any statements as to the possible cause of the New York accident," McDonald said. Quesada said he had no comment "at this time" on McDonald's statement.

Quesada had told President Eisenhower in a personal report on the crash that the United Air Lines jet was 11 miles off course when the collision occurred.

Spur Co. Merges With Murphy Co.

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP)—Stockholders of Murphy Corp. today approved a proposal that Spur Oil Co. of Nashville, Tenn., be merged into the Murphy concern.

Approximately 92.4 per cent of Murphy's outstanding stock was representing in person or by proxy at the meeting. All but a few shares voted for the merger.

Murphy officials said Paul Banks Jr., president of Spur, advised them that proxies representing 8 per cent of Spur stock assured the other company's approval.

Final action by Spur will be taken at a Dec. 28 meeting. Murphy has varied oil and other interests.

Spur operates filling stations in several states, including Arkansas.

The Murphy announcement gave no details of the merger proposal.

Murphy stockholders also voted to increase authorized common stock from 3,500,000 shares to 4,500,000 shares.

Duke Coach Says Arkansas Is Quickest

DURHAM, N. C. (AP) — "I don't believe there is any team quicker," Duke Coach Bill Murray said of the Arkansas Razorbacks, who will meet his Blue Devils in the Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

"Arkansas has great team speed. It is very aggressive. It is strong on kick returns and is the leading defensive outfit in the Southwest Conference," Murray said Tuesday.

Of his own team, Murray said, "I believe our youngsters have real concentrated interest in this game." Spirit and enthusiasm are things no one can tell about, but I think we are in fine mental shape for the game.

Arkansas' role as the favorite will not affect Duke, Murray said. "It's simply a matter that if the underdog team is inspired, it will go out and get an upset. If the favored team goes on and does the job it is supposed to do, then it will win."

The Blue Devils wound up their practice drills after Tuesday's session and left for a brief Christmas holiday. They'll return Monday and leave for San Antonio, Tex., where they will work until Dec. 29 before moving on to Dallas.

Stay in Shape, Porkers Told

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles Tuesday told his Razorbacks to "stay in shape" over the Christmas weekend then broke off preliminary drills for the Cotton Bowl clash with Duke until next Monday.

The Porkers will fly to Houston, Tex., Dec. 2 to complete their workouts for the Jan. 2 bowl game.

Most of the early practice has been in the form of limbering up work, timing and work on assignments. There has been no practice against Duke's offense and defense, Broyles said.

Guernsey in Triple Win Over Hope

By Vinco Foster
Hope Star Sports Writer

Hope dropped three games to Guernsey as the "B" boys were edged out 35-32 and the Junior girls lost by a 30 to 25 score.

The "B" boys started off O.K. as they led 10-5 at the end of the first quarter, but Guernsey came back in the second quarter and outscored them 14-7 to give them a lead of 19-17 at the half.

In the third period Stevens of Guernsey led with 8 points to increase their lead to 29-20. The J.V.'s came back hard in the 4th and at one time were only 6 points behind, but Guernsey sunk 5 free throws in that period and also the game 40-30.

Hawley and Stevens of Guernsey were high men with 14 points each. Murphy sank 11 for Hope, Porterfield 6, Compton and Walker 5 each, Wray 2 and Horton 1. The Lady Cats were edged out in another exciting game. The game was about all even with Guernsey leading 9-7 and 17-15 at the end of the 1st and 2nd quarters. Hope led 26-24 at the end of the third.

Adams of Guernsey was high with 17 points. Nita Messer was high for Hope with 14 points and Brenda Mitchell took 12. Judy Robinson had 4, while Lora Calcutt took 2.

The Hope Jr. Ladies led by Susan Cook, led the first period 13-7, the second period 19-14. Then the third quarter was the fatal one with Guernsey taking 10 points to Hope's 1.

Rosenbaum was high in the game with 18 points for Guernsey. Cook had 11 for Hope, Smith had 8 for Hope while Reeves got 6. Dec. 28 marks the beginning of the Holiday Tournament to be held in Jones Field House. All Hope fans are urged to support this tournament.

Alworth Is the Clean Up Hitter

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—They call Lance Alworth the "clean-up hitter" for Arkansas. He's the fellow you have to get out, using another baseball expression if you're going to beat the Razorbacks.

Duke, which plays Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 would do well to study this man's style and try to pitch to his weakness—if it can find one. He has to be handled carefully or he'll have that big inning.

Defenses were adjusted by the Arkansas foes during the campaign to stop the Alworth threat but he had a remarkable year anyway. More than that he was the big crowd-pleaser.

"A two-yard sweep by Alworth is worth the price of a ticket," said one Arkansas follower. "You realize that every time he comes around that corner he might go the distance."

Alworth was Arkansas' most versatile player during the past season. Despite an injury that hampered him in several games, led the team in rushing with 375 yards, was second in passing, reviving with 12 catches for 243 yards and two touchdowns, did most of the punting (he kicked 48 times), led not only the Southwest Conference but the nation in punt returns with 18 for 307 yards, and added 328 yards returning kickoffs.

There wasn't a game that Alworth didn't do something to distinguish himself, because he had so many ways of doing it.

His booming punts led Arkansas to a 9-0 victory over Oklahoma State. He had a 42-yard kick and a 20-yard run to set up the first score against Tulsa. He made two great punt returns against Texas Christian. He got off a 67 yard kick against Baylor in temporarily stymie the Bear offense.

A kick that died on the Texas seven and couple of crucial runs sent Arkansas to victory over the Longhorns. A 13-yard reverse set up a field goal effort against Mississippi. His great punting was instrumental in the victory over Texas A&M.

Roland Jackson of Rice got off some great kicks against Arkansas but Alworth returned them so well it ruined their effectiveness. A two-yard touchdown smash and a 63 yard kick were the big blows against Southern Methodist.

He caught a 61 yard touchdown pass and had a 20-yard pass play followed by a 15-yard reverse to set up another score against Texas Tech. He also intercepted a pass. There's little question that Alworth can beat you but just how is always the thing that keeps the opposition worried.

Hadnot Leads Unbeaten Providence

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jim Hadnot suddenly has become unbeaten Providence's "has all" in leading the Friars to their last four victories, three of them cliffhangers.

Handnot, a 6 foot 10 inch junior scored 39 points Tuesday night, and the final two came with one second remaining and pulled out an 81-80 victory over Gonzaga.

Last Saturday he got the clinching basket with 10 seconds left as Providence beat Canisius 53-50. His two baskets in an overtime period against San Francisco gave the Friars a lead they never lost in a 54-47 victory. His first-half scoring helped sink Santa Clara 65-59 two night before.

Providence gets its next big test against St. John's, Redmen in New York's Holiday Festival next week. St. John's, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, moved its record to 5-0 with an 87-56 victory over Pitt Tuesday night.

Indiana, ranked fourth, defeated Notre Dame 74-65 for Coach Branch McCracken's 300th basketball victory as Hoosier head coach. None of the other top teams were in action.

Another Big Ten power, Purdue, led by Terry Dischinger's 43 points, beat Evansville NCAA small college champs 84-75. Don Kojis led Marquette on a 70-62 victory over Iowa State while Northwestern's 53-45 victory over Washington cracked a four-game losing streak.

Red Hickey Has a New Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coach Red Hickey of the San Francisco 49ers got a new three-year contract Wednesday at a boost in salary for doing what a pro football coach should: win games.

Owner Vic Morabito signed Hickey to a pact and an undisclosed salary figure, the terms extending through the 1963 National Football League season.

Hickey had identical 7-5 records in his two seasons as 49ers head man and his team this year finished tied for second in the Western Division with Detroit.

His original 1959 contract still had a year on it.

Buck Shaw Hopes for a Dry Field

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw of the Philadelphia Eagles says he hopes for a dry field Monday in the National Football League title game at Franklin Field against Green Bay.

As he cast a long eye toward the weather, Shaw explained that a muddy field would give the Green Bay Packers an advantage "because of their overall running and blocking."

While he conceded that the Eagles have never been a good blocking team, Shaw called the Packers "the best in the league."

"The better the field, the better we can operate," he said, adding that the Eagles passing by quarterback Norm Van Brocklin "far overshadows our running."

Shaw also was quick to point out that generally the Eagles' offensive line has given Van Brocklin pretty good protection.

Shaw said he was well pleased with the Eagles' one-hour practice session in Philadelphia Stadium Tuesday which was devoted entirely to offense, particularly passing. Shaw said he might install a few new plays.

Twenty centuries ago, the city of Rome had 2,000 firemen. They were divided into seven companies, called cohorts.

Green Bay to Defense Van Brocklin

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Green Bay Packers are concentrating on building a defense against Norm Van Brocklin, the man their boss considers "a brilliant passer who functions as a coach on the field."

"We've got to stop Van Brocklin and his passing to (Tommy) McDonald and (Pete) Reitzeloff," Vince Lombardi emphasized as he sent his players through a rugged drill on the frozen turf here Tuesday.

Van Brocklin is the quarterback of the Philadelphia Eagles who will meet the Packers in the National Football League title game next Monday. It will be the first championship game for the Packers since 1944.

Lombardi said that in addition, to breaking up the overhead game the Packers have to stop the Eagles' ground attack.

"They (the Eagles) have shown mobility on the ground, too," he said. "Billy Barnes and rookie Red Dean are not only excellent receivers, but they are fast runners."

4 Big College Teams Meet in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Four top college teams — two from the Southwest Conference and two from the Southeastern — launch the Aluminum Bowl Classic here tonight.

Arkansas meets Alabama at 7 p.m. and Texas plays Tennessee in the nightcap. Thursday night they trade foes with Texas meeting Alabama at 7 and Arkansas going against the Volunteers in the afterpiece.

Razorback fans will get a chance to measure their Porkers against Texas, the team favored to repeat as Southwest Conference champion. Arkansas is regarded as one of the top challengers.

Arkansas and Tennessee carry 4-2 records into the Aluminum Bowl event. Texas is 3-3 and Alabama 1-5. Alabama is coached by Dr. Eugene Lambert, former Arkansas coach.

The Aluminum Bowl is not a tournament and no champion will be crowned.

Arkansas probably will have to go without Clyde Rhoden, its top individual scorer the past two seasons. Rhoden suffered an ankle injury in an earlier game against North Texas State.

Porker Coach Glen Rose plans to start Ronnie Garner, Alan Morrison and Tommy Boyer, all 6-6 and 6-11 Jerry Carlton and 6-3 Pat Foster. Boyer is a sophomore.

The classic is scheduled in 6,500 seat Barton Coliseum. Sponsors expect about 5,000 fans each night.
